

emma Award 2021

Call for Nominations

The emma Board is pleased to invite nominations for the recipient of the emma Award 2021. The announcement of the recipient of the emma Award will be one of the highlights of our upcoming conference in Jönköping, Sweden, in October.

Recipients of the emma Award are esteemed in the field of media management. They may be either noteworthy scholars or influential practitioners. The previous recipients are Gabriele Siegert (2019), Gregory F. Lowe (2018), Lucy Küng (2017), Heinz-Werner Nienstedt (2016), Mihály Gálik (2015), Gillian Doyle (2014), Alfonso Sanchez-Tabernero (2013), Christian S. Nissen (2012), Karl Erik Gustafsson (2011), Robert G. Picard (2010), Viktor Shkulev (2009), Don Alfonso Nieto (2008), and Stig Frederiksson (2007). You find more information about each recipient on our website at www.media-management.eu/emma-grants-awards/emma-award-recipients/.

The emma board welcomes nominations for the emma Award 2021 from all emma members. In order to nominate someone, please provide a one-page letter that specifies who you are nominating (including association and work position/title) and why he or she merits receiving the Award. Qualifications typically include contributions to research in the field, development of management practice in media, teaching and advising, and service to the academic community. Please include contact information for your nominee, as well as for yourself.

The recipient of the 2021 emma Award will be announced at the gala dinner during the annual conference in Jönköping. emma President Ulrike Rohn will contact the person who made the winning nomination in advance to collaborate in preparing the remarks that precede the Award. Of course, confidentiality is requested because the announcement will be a surprise to the recipient, the emma members and the conference participants.

Please send your nomination to sarivirta@live.com by September 1, 2021.
